

What You'll Learn

As a participant on this tour, you'll learn about the socioeconomic polices driving Santa Anna and why the Texians and Tejanos decide to stand and fight against enormous odds instead of fleeing to Louisiana seeking protection from The United States. Furthermore, you'll understand the impact of one victorious, eighteen minute battle upon the future of Texas the Republic, and The United States. Plus, you'll gain insight to why Texians are so proud of their State.

Central Divisional Tour

October 18-22, 2025

San Antonio to San Jacinto

Join us on an immersive, four-day tour tracing the footsteps of early Texians as they flee Mexico's Dictator and General, Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna after the fall of the Alamo.

Outnumbering the Texians almost four to one, Santa Anna's goal is to crush the Texian rebellion, eliminate the resistance, and end Anglo immigration.

Making a stand at San Jacinto (east of Harrisburg), the outnumbered Texians defeated the Mexican forces and captured Santa Anna, thus ending the war and granting Texas' independence.

Welcome to San Antonio

Pre-tour arrival to San Antonio is highly encouraged, with suggested places of interest relating to early Tejas.

Saturday, Oct 18

Check-in at The Menger Hotel (across the street from The Alamo). There will be an evening reception in the courtyard with heavy hors d'oeuvres and cash bar.

Day One: Sunday, Oct 19

San Antonio to Gonzales

The tour starts at The Alamo, we then flee eastward over the Cibolo Crossing for a rest in Seguin. After lunch, the flee continues to the "Come and Take It" cannon battle site before arriving at our dinner and overnight stop in Gonzales. (71 miles)

Day Two: Monday, Oct 20

Gonzales to Brenham

We start at the Gonzales Memorial Museum, to see the original "Come and Take It" cannon and pay respects to the Immortal Thirty-Two. We again flee eastward to gather at the oak tree where Sam Houston rallied the Texians after the fall of The Alamo. Proceeding on to Shiner, we stop at the brewery for a BBQ lunch and optional brewery tour before continuing to San Felipe (Stephen Austin colony) to visit the museum & remains. We hustle northward to overnight in Brenham. (105 miles)

Day Three: Tuesday, Oct 21

Brenham to New Caney

Blue Bell Creamery stop in the morning, before proceeding on to Washington-on-the-Brazos where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed. After catered lunch, we continue fleeing to our overnight in New Caney. (81 miles)

Day Four: Wednesday, Oct 22

New Caney to San Jacinto

Heading south from New Caney, we take the Lynchburg Ferry (where Texians crossed) to San Jacinto, where we explore the battlefield and monument museum, before an early afternoon closing banquet at the nearby Monument Inn. After the banquet, participants can depart for home or proceed on to the Central Fall National Meet in Galveston, approximately 1 hour away (the meet check-in starts the next day). (47 miles)
