The Car is the Star

By Peter Pandolfi

Editor's Note: Welcome to the inaugural article of the Car is the Star. My intention is to provide information on the many iconic cars we see in TV shows and movies while giving you a nostalgic trip back to your youth. If you are too young to remember these, too bad. You won't understand any of it.

Get Smart is an American comedy television series parodying the secret agent genre that had become widely popular in the first half of the 1960s with the release of the James Bond films. It was created by Mel Brooks and Buck Henry, and had its television premiere on NBC on September 18, 1965. It starred Don Adams (who was also a director on the series) as agent Maxwell Smart (Agent 86), Barbara Feldon as Agent 99, and Edward Platt as The Chief. Henry said that they created the show at the request of Daniel Melnick to capitalize on James Bond and Inspector Clouseau, "the two biggest things in the entertainment world today". Brooks described it as "an insane combination of James Bond and Mel Brooks comedy".

The series centers on bumbling secret agent Maxwell Smart (Adams), also known as Agent 86, and his unnamed female partner, Agent 99 (Feldon). They work for CONTROL, a secret U.S. government counterintelligence agency based in Washington, D.C., fighting against KAOS, "the international organization of evil".

See you for our Let's Drive Tour April 12
Meet at the Tractor Supply in Trussville at 9am

Darrin and Charlotte's 1955 Chevy Bel Air

This car has been in the family since Darrin was born. It was originally purchased by Darrin's father, Fred, for Fred's sister to drive while he repaired her car.

Fred decided to keep the car, and several years later, he painted it maroon with a cream-colored top and installed pink shag carpet in it to celebrate his 10th wedding anniversary with Camille. Fred also swapped out the motor for his race car engine. He even drove the car from South Dakota to Denver to street race, only to be quickly escorted to the state line.

Darrin has been slowly restoring the car to its original condition. It has participated in numerous AACA Tours, and in October, it was entered in the Huntsville Fall Nationals. Shortly after the show, we were informed of a nomination for a national award. In mid-December, we received the exciting news that the car had won a National Award in the Driver Participation Class Post-War category.

"Grandpa"

Our story started way before we fell in love with the car. At the time, my wife and I didn't even know what we were looking for, or even wanted. For several years, we were going to car shows and admired the beautiful vehicles we saw but could never decide on one specific make or model. We just knew it had to be a General Motors vehicle.

News and Activities from the Tidewater Region—Antique Automobile Club of America

Volume 71, Issue 3

March 2025

Meet Tom and Connie England and their fabulous 1924 Chevy. This car received a Tidewater Region Century award at this year's Awards Banquet. It's also received numerous other awards, too, including some best-in-show trophies in local events. It's a great car that checks all the boxes for me – it's an early car, it's owner-restored, and it's shared with others at shows and other events.

The Timeless Journey of a 1924 Chevrolet Tom and Connie England

Introduction

The 1924 Chevrolet stands as a testament to the enduring appeal of classic American automobiles. Born in an era marked by innovation and the roaring twenties, this vehicle encapsulates the spirit of a bygone age. The 1924 Chevrolet has traversed over a century of automotive evolution, leaving an indelible mark on history.

The Birth of the 1924 Chevrolet

In the early 1920s, the Chevrolet Motor Company was keen on establishing itself as a formidable competitor to the dominant Ford Model T. Under the leadership of William C. Durant, Chevrolet embarked on a mission to produce vehicles that combined affordability with style and reliability. The result was a lineup of cars that quickly garnered a loyal following.

The 1924 Chevrolet was part of the Superior Series, specifically the Superior F model. It featured several advancements over its predecessors, including a more powerful engine, improved suspension, and enhanced comfort for passengers. The vehicle was available in various body styles, such as the Touring Car, Roadster, Coupe, and Sedan, catering to a diverse range of customer preferences.

Design and Engineering

The design of the 1924 Chevrolet was a reflection of the elegance and sophistication of the era. With its sleek lines, polished chrome accents, and distinctive radiator grille, the car exuded a sense of modernity and style. The Superior F model was powered by a 171 cubic inch, four-cylinder engine that produced 26 horsepower. This engine, combined with a three-speed manual transmission, offered a smooth and reliable driving experience.

The release of the 1924 Chevrolet had a profound impact on the automotive industry. It marked a shift towards more accessible and versatile vehicles that catered to a wider audience. Chevrolet's commitment to affordability without compromising on quality resonated with American consumers, propelling the brand to new heights.

Don't forget our monthly business meeting!

- Date: Thursday, Jan 22, 2026
- Time: 6:30 PM
- Location: 1906 University Dr NW, Huntsville, AL 35804

This will be our first regular monthly meeting for 2026! In celebration of our great year,

NAR 2026 President Message

Greetings to all,

As we begin a new year under new leadership, you may notice a slightly different writing style in these messages.

While styles may change, our shared purpose, values, and commitment to the North Alabama Region remain the same. As we embark on a new year, I want to extend my warmest wishes for a happy and prosperous 2026.

This year also marks our 65th anniversary as a club, first organized in 1961 as the Huntsville Antique Automobile Club. In 1962 the club submitted a petition for charter to the national AACA and was granted that petition on October, 12 1962 under the NAR name. In February 1963 the AACA charter was presented to the membership of the club. With these milestones in mind, I want to express my heartfelt appreciation for everyone's dedication, hard work, and contributions. Your commitment and enthusiasm have been instrumental in our continued success, and I am truly grateful.

Welcome to the website of the Cape Fear Chapter of the North Carolina Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America! The Antique Automobile Club of America (AACA) was founded in November 1935. Headquartered in Hershey, PA, it is the oldest and largest such club in the United States. The NC Region of the AACA is comprised of 13 Local Chapters. The Cape Fear Chapter was chartered in 1972. While ownership of an automobile is not a requirement for membership, many of our members own antique automobiles. Several of these local cars are Regional and National award winners.
